POLICE COURT

Yesterday Has a Number of Interesting Cases—Ed Barlow Convicted For Bootlegging on Second Trial.

In Police Court yesterday afternoon four cases were tried before Judge Whitaker and one before a jury. All of the cases except one were serious and all received stiff sentences.

Arnold Johnson, the man who escaped from Officer Stewart on Saturday night, was tried in Court for bootlegging, although he was not present.
Under the new law regarding bootleggers they can be tried although not actually present. He was given a $100 fine and 60 days in jail. If he ever returns to this city he will be at once apprehended and taken to jail to serve out the sentence imposed upon him.

Ream Ballard was held over to the March term of the Mason County Grand Jury for carrying a concealed weapon. Complaint had been made to the Police that Ballard had pointed a revolver at another. When arrested was found to have a large pistol on his person and the charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons was lodged against him.

Spence Kimbro was sentenced to 60 days in jail for petit larceny. Spence stole coal from a man that had thrown it from a train.

Omar Gray was fined $6.50 for being drunk, the usual dose.
Ed Barlow, who was acquitted before a jury last week on a charge of bootlegging was again tried yesterday afternoon before the following gentlemen: John Fansler, R. M. Harrison, John J. Kain, Parker Grimes, John B.
Furlong and James Purdon. He was found to be guilty and fine $50 and sentenced to 10 days in jail. Barlow was the only real bootlegger ever caught in this city.

JUDGMENT FOR DEFENDANT

In the Mason Circuit Court yesterday the case of Theo. B. Dryden against Vastine, Noland & Lowrey was tried before a jury and after hearing the evidence they gave judgment for the defendant. Young Dryden was pouring tar on the brick streets under construction by Vastine, Noland & Lowrey, although not an employee of the company. His foot became stuck in the tar and while endeavoring to pull loose the tar bucket he was carrying sloshed over him, burning his face and body.

Wesley Gullett's administrator, who was given a verdict for $1,000 against the C. & O. Railway by a jury on Saturday entered a motion for a new trial yesterday.

TWO DEAD

And a Number of Others Seriously Burned in a Big Fire in the State Penitentiary at Frankfort—Bars are Battered to Release Inmates From Burning Cells.

Frankfort, Ky., January 8—More than forty prisoners were trapped in their cells, the key to which was broken, when fire destroyed cell house A and badly damaged cell house B of the State penitentiary here, just before midnight. Two of the convicts were burned to death, and thirty-nine others, now in the prison hospital, some seriously burned, owe their lives to the valor of their fellow prisoners.

Not in the history of this city have men dealt so carelessly with their lives as did the fire fighting forces at the prison tonight. The only way that the imprisoned men could be reached was by scaling the walls of the burning building, by going through the flaming roof, and with the aid of chains, drop down on Walks 11 and 12, where the men were imprisoned and liberate them.

By the aid of crowbars, picks and sledge hammers, the iron doors were battered down and the half dying men were carried out to the walls and then let down with ropes to the rescuing party below.

William Jones, of Owingsville, was the first man to be rescued, and he was the first man to die. He was so far gone when he was taken from the burning prison that not even oxygen could restore him to life.

The same fate befell David Fife, of Lexington, a few minutes later.

Rescue Attributed to Prayer
Every man taken from the building had a different story to tell as to their rescue, and all of them claimed that their rescue was the result of prayer.

Every physician in Frankfort was called to assist Dr. W. C. Caywood, the prison physician, to wait on the men. The fire did not reach the female department of the prison, so that there was no alarm from that source.

First among those at the scene of the fire was Governor Stanley and his secretary, Miss Minnie Mahler. They were at work in the Governor's office when the word was sent to him that the prison cells were burning.
He made the trip to the penitentiary with so much haste that he arrived there almost as soon as the city fire department arrived, and was soon on the inside of the walls directing the fire fighters.

More than once during the night did his friends go to him and warn him of the danger, not only from the falling walls and the burning timbers, but from the live wires, but he did not pay any attention to them and kept on directing the firemen until the last man was rescued. Then he went to the prison hospital with words of encouragement to the suffering men.

Wiring Cause, Belief
The fire started in the old cell house, it is believed, from the electric wiring. It is constructed mostly of poplar timber, a part of it having been bulldozed 120 years ago and part eighty years ago. It burned like tinder.

The building was the oldest in use at the reformatory and because the locking equipment was of old design it was necessary to unlock each cell individually. The key was broken early in the rescue work and before duplicates could be secured the entrance to the building was blocked by flames, leaving more than fifty prisoners cut off from escape.

Prisoners in Temporary Quarters
A hurry call was sent to the city workhouse quarry for dynamite. A hole was made through the walls on one side of the building, which the flames had not yet reached, and the work of rescue resumed.

As the prisoners were released they were taken in charge by guards and herded into the reformatory dining room and chapel. More than fifty persons, overcome by smoke, were sent to the reformatory hospital after being revived. The burned buildings housed more than 800 prisoners. The entire population of the penitentiary, 1,500, are in the temporary quarters tonight. Hot coffee was served to them early this morning by Warden Mack Phythian.

Loss Approximately $75,000
The loss to the State will be approximately $75,000 and may run higher than that amount. The building destroyed was the first penal institution built in Kentucky.

CELEBRATED GOLDEN ANNIV- SARY

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Geisel celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding at their home on Front street yesterday. Mrs. Geisel was formerly Miss Mary Holmes of this city. The Ledger joins with their many friends in wishing them the celebration of many more wedding anniversaries.

HIGH SCHOOL LECTURE

The lecture which Julius Caesar Nayphe, native of Athens, Greece, is to give Tuesday evening, January 9th, on the Maysville lyceum course, refers to the geography and vegetation of the Orient, social customs, hospitality as the cardinal virtue of the Orient, the position of women, burial customs, and the prayers and worship of the Mohammedans.

The lecturer, speaking as an Oriental, gives his impressions of America.
Also, he quite competently gives an adopted American's impression of the Orient. Nearly five years ago Mr.
Nayphe came into full American citizenship.

made to hold a great celebration at that time. Fuller announcements will be made of the centennial later

CHILD INJURED

Harry, the son of Mr. and Mrs.
Stanley Brady of Houston avenue, was rather severely injured at the Forest Avenue School yesterday at noon when he was struck in the head by one of the swings on the playgrounds.
A large gash was cut over the boy's left eye. He will suffer no inconveniences from the accident.

NINETEEN SEVENTEEN

The political problems of this year, stated in terms of national legislation and administration, belong exclusively to the Democratic party. They will inaugurate a President—for a second term—in March; and they may be able to organize the House of Representatives in December. They already have and will retain the control of the Senate.

It will be their duty to our foreign relations amicably and honorably, to administer our domestic affairs economically and efficiently, and to provide revenues for the Treasury equitably and adequately. They will find ample occupation.

The Republicans also have work for Nineteen Seventeen. It is our duty to prepare for Nineteen Eighteen and for Nineteen Twenty. The weakness of the party, as revealed by the results of election, must be overcome. The organization must be strengthened and perfected—purged if need be—and the party spirit must be stimulated for the contests which are to come.

Freed from responsibility for national affairs, the Republican party nevertheless retains responsibility for the government of many of the States and for all of the important States. In these legislatures and in these State administrations the Republican party has the opportunity to demonstrate its character as a political organization, its efficiency as an instrument of government, and its value and usefulness to the people. This opportunity embraces no backward steps. Legislative advance—using the work because progressivism has taken on a narrowed political interpretation in recent years—must continue; the Republican party must carry it on. This way safety lies.

Nineteen Seventeen is prolific with promise for Republicanism. Republicanism must not neglect it.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO PREPAREDNESS?

We don't hear as much about military preparedness as we did six months or a year ago.

Yet thousands of militiamen are still on the Mexican border doing the work of professional soldiers, and from the latest news it seems possible that they may do some real fighting before they return to their homes and vocations.

A German submarine has been busy at its commerce destroying work within a few miles of our shores. The conduct of the U boat's commander was strictly in accordance with Germany's promises to us—but suppose that he had made a mistake and torpedoed an American coasting steamer?

American citizens died when the British steamer Marina was sunk by a submarine off the Irish coast, and the severance of our diplomatic relations with Germany is a possible result.

The British navy still tampers with American mail bags. Congress has authorized a large increase of our naval power, but no adequate increase in our land fighting force has been made.

Some day we will wake up to the necessity of real preparedness and universal military training and service—but it is likely to be the extremely uncomfortable awakening of the man who jumps out of his warm bed on a winter night because he smells smoke in the room.

AN INVESTIGATION THAT FIZZLED

Recollecting how profuse the Department of Justice was in its dramatic threats of an investigation of alleged transportation of colored voters into northern states for the purpose of controlling the election, one cannot help wondering why the Department does not get busy with an investigation of the manner in which a few people were enabled to make fortunes out of the conflicting statements issued by the Department of State relative to the President's peace note. And, by the way, what ever became of that colored voters investigation, on which the Department of Justice employed a lot of its high-salaried agents just before election?

TO AMERICANS FIRST

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo estimates that the deficit this year will amount to $185,000,000. It will be noted that he did not make his estimate public until after election. It is also worthy of note that Democrats propose every sort of scheme for raising more revenue except the easiest, and most useful method of increasing the customs duties, which would impose the tax upon the importer of foreign goods and encourage the development of domestic industries. As the tariff laws stand today, no man of business sagacity will invest in any permanent productive enterprise that will meet competition after the war.

WHY BRING IT UP?

"Puck," a magazine which specializes on whiskey advertising pictures of unclad women and highly sanctimonious political moralizing, says that it deserves considerable credit for Wilson's election because a few days before the election it printed a big streamer warning the people that "the election of Hughes means war with all its horrors." It's seldom that anyone brags about printing a campaign lie so long after the occasion for doing the work is over.—National Republican.

HORRIBLE THOUGHT!

President Wilson hurt his ankle playing golf. It might have been worse. Suppose he had sprained the wrist he uses to sign notes?—Detroit Free Press.

ISN'T THIS LOVELY WEATHER?

Mr. Lansing is acquiring the reputation of being the greatest Secretary of State since William Jennings Bryan.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

SHE OUGHT 'A MOVE TO UTAH

DISEASE GERMS IN BOOKS

(New York Sun.)

The recent epidemic of infantile paralysis has intensified the unwholesome dread of disease germs with which the public mind has long been obsessed. The health authorities are endeavoring to educate the public in the matter of cleanliness, which is inimical to the propagation of these germs. Ablution of the hands before eating has been especially insisted upon in this propaganda. A similar cleansing after soiling of the hands needs not to be emphasized. Unfortunately the majority of people do not realize the importance of these simple precautions, while on the other hand there are many persons with whom disease germs are a bete noir. They see death and sickness lurking everywhere, and like the "thief who sees a policeman behind every bush," they live in constant apprehension of germs. To these timid individuals a recent article in the Journal of the American Medical Association on "Bacteria on Paper Money and Books may bring comfort.

The Sun has endeavored to present only the most reliable scientific aspect of the subject of germ diseases, because the usual hasty generalizations of science and baseless assertions which continually appear in print under the guise of scientific authority sooner or later redounded to the discredit of real progress. An unwarranted scepticism is aroused and the distrust of an obvious misstatement unconsciously becomes magnified into a reactionary indifference to the better contributions of scientific men. The championship of half or conjectured truths inevitably acts in the course of time as a barrier to the very objects which are sought in public reforms, for the end truth always prevails.

Some years ago The Sun called attention to the erroneous idea that tuberculosis may be contracted by persons using the telephone mouthpiece which has been used by many others. We showed that the postmaster general of Great Britain had the mouthpieces on the telephones under his control examined bacteriologically, with the result of no disease germs being discovered upon them. The Journal comments upon the popular opinion of a few years ago that the handling of soiled paper money was extremely dangerous on account of the bacteria that may adhere to it. The fact is that bank tellers do not share this aversion, nor do they present evidence of exceptional liability to infectious diseases. It has been positively ascertained and published in the Popular Science Monthly that paper money constitutes an unimportant factor in the transmission of disease. While clean paper money satisfies our aesthetic sense, it has not been proved that soiled money is likely to become a medium of disease transmission.

With regard to books, it is the custom to disinfect them, when soiled, by exposure to sunlight and air, but it is a fact that the hygienic laboratory of John Hopkins hospital has not found germs of diphtheria, for instance, on books coming from homes in which children had been suffering from this disease. The fact is that the majority of bacteria found on books are the same as those found in atmospheric air, and that the colon bacterium, which is frequently found on the hands of school children, has rarely been found on the books they handle. There is really no material risk involved in the resuse of books recently read by consumptives, unless the books are obviously soiled, and even then the risks are very slight. Since, however, bacteria like the typhoid and diphtheria organism have been occasionally discovered on artificially infected books, there may be good reason for subjecting all returned books to direct sunlight before redistribution.

Practically the danger from soiled money and books is no more obvious than the danger from the mouthpiece of the telephone.

Denver, Col., January 7—The condition of Colonel William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," was announced by his physician tonight as "continuing serious". The Colonel's wife and daughter are hastening here from the family home in Cody, Wyo.

DEPOSITED IN U. S.

New York, January 7.—Gold amounting to $25,000,000, one of the largest shipments received in a single day since the present movement from abroad began, arrived here today from Halifax, Nova Scotia, and was deposited at the Treasury.

Twenty automobile trucks, each with armed guards, were required to transport the gold, which was packed in 8200 boxes, from the railroad station to the subtreasury. A force of thirty-five clerks was kept on duty today to receive the shipments.

Unusual secrecy was observed, it was said, regarding the route of the gold, which came on heavily guarded express cars through Canada.

BOOTLEGGER DEFINED AS ROVING SALESMAN

Topeka, Kan., January 6.—The State Supreme Court of Kansas today determined the difference between a "bootlegger" and a "jointist" in upholding a pertinent decision from a district court.

The definition of a "bootlegger," as given by Supreme Court judges, was a person who sells intoxicating liquor on the sly; not from any particular business location, but carrying his wares in his bootleg, his pocket, or in some "fitting hole in the wall."

"But when a person establishes himself in a definite place of business, where, by skillful ledgerdom, he can sell or pretend to sell the justice of the apple as well as beer—'near' and 'far'—and other intoxicants, the niceties of the Kansas language designates him as a 'jointist,' and no longer in the plebeian class of the 'bootlegger.'"

"LAY OFF, DEMOCRATS," IS WARNING ISSUED BY FARM LOAN BOARD

Washington, January 7.—Organization of the twelve Federal Land Banks has been undertaken, the Farm Loan Board announced tonight, with a determination to eliminate politics entirely in the selection of the men to operate the new institutions. The board's statement, explaining that pressure is being exerted for the appointment of Democrats, says:

"These jobs will not be handed out as political plums. The only consideration which will be taken into account is that of merit, efficiency and ability."

For each bank the board is to name five directors, for whom a President, Secretary, Treasurer and Vice President will be chosen as managing officers. For each bank a Registrar will act as fiduciary agent of the government.

In making appointments every effort will be made to get men whose fitness will commend them not only to farmers who must borrow money, but to investors, who must look upon farm loan bonds as safe and prime securities.

Secretary McAdoo made public tonight a letter he has addressed to the Governors of all States, urging that they recommend to their respective Legislatures the enactment of laws to make farm loan bonds legal investments for trust funds and savings banks where such laws are necessary.

Mr. McAdoo also has written to the various farm loan organizations of each State, pointing out the desirability of co-operation.

AGREEMENT REACHED ON IMMIGRATION BILL

Washington, January 6.—Senate and House conferences on the immigration bill virtually agreed after a conference with Secretary Lansing today, to accept the measure in the form that it passed the Senate without mention of Japanese among the persons to be excluded. That would leave the present gentleman's agreement regarding the entrance of Japanese laborers into the United States unchanged.

The Secretary was asked to make clear to the conference, particularly, the views of the Japanese and Italian governments. He is understood to have explained that the Italian government believes some provision regarding inspection on immigrant ships, and that the Japanese embassy feels that some of the phraseology relating to Oriental exclusion is now entirely the same as that of the bill as agreed upon at the last session of Congress.

They are said, however, to be no more than differences of wording, and members of the committee expressed confidence tonight the bill as perfected would entirely satisfy both governments.

The bill probably will be reported early next week and prompt action is expected in both Houses. Confident that President Wilson will veto it on account of the literacy test provision, sponsors of that action are making every effort to pledge enough votes to the final draft to pass it over a veto.

Representative Burnett, chairman of the House Immigration Committee, believes this can be accomplished.

HOW TEMPERAMENTAL ARE MICHIGAN AUTHORS?

New York, January 7.—At a special meeting of the Council of the Authors' League of America here today the charter of the Michigan branch of the league at Detroit was withdrawn by unanimous vote for alleged nonpayment of dues.

Another offense committed, it was charged, was the substitution of social and educational activities for the chief purpose for which the league was formed—that of safeguarding the business interests of writers.

SOCIALISTS FAIL TO AGREE

New York, January 7.—Leaders of the Socialist party and the Socialist Labor party failed tonight, for the third time, to restore unity between the two parties. The conference was adjourned with a threat by Arthur Reimer, delegate of the Socialist Labor party, of a bitter fight against the Socialist party. He was not supported by his fellow delegates, however.

RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL CARRIES $39,000,000

Washington, January 6.—The rivers and harbors appropriation bill, carrying $39,000,000 for continuing projects already authorized and $10,000,000 as immediate appropriation for new projects, whose total cost will approximate $50,000,000, virtually has been completed and will be returned to the House next week.

700 MILES IN MOTOR BOAT AFTER SHIP SINKS

New York, January 7.—A voyage of 700 miles in a motor boat from a spot in the Atlantic Ocean where they had abandoned their ship, to the coast of Morocco, was the unusual experience related by five of the crew of the American schooner Rob Roy on their arrival from Havana today aboard the steamship Mexico.

According to the sailors, the Rob Roy sailed from Alicante, Spain, for Havana, and on November 18 the vessel ran into a heavy gale. She sprang a leak, became waterlogged and for two days drifted in this condition. The vessel was abandoned November 20 and the captain and crew took a motor boat they had on board. They steered a course east, hoping to pick up a passenger ship or sight land, they declared.

After traveling 700 miles without sighting another craft, they landed on the coast of Morocco and made their way to Mogador, Morocco, where they appealed to the American Consul. The men were sent to the Canary Islands. There they boarded a Spanish steamer for Havana.

The newspaper adds that the first work of the council will be to organize for the enlistment of a Polish army.

TIME IS THE TEST

The Testimony of Maysville People Stands the Test.

The test of time is what tells the tale. The public soon finds out when misrepresentations are made, and merit alone will stand the test of time.

Maysville people appreciate merit, and many months ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; they do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows unless convinced that the article was just as represented? Below is testimony such as the sufferer from kidney ills is looking for.

Fred Dresel, tailor and justice of the peace, 1238 E. Second St., Maysville, says: "I was troubled by inflammation of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. The kidney secretions burned in passage and often were retarded. I had severe pains across the small of my back which greatly interfered with my work. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Wood & Son's Drug Store, gave me prompt relief."

Mr. Dresel gave the above statement on February 6, 1908, and on November 14, 1916, he added: "I have had the same faith in Doan's Kidney Pills to-day as ever, for I haven't had any trouble with my kidneys since I last recommended them."

Mr. Dresel is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Dresel has twice publicly recommended—the remedy backed by home testimony, 50c all stores. In the argument which will begin Monday afternoon and probably will be concluded Tuesday, Solicitor General Davis will be in charge of the defense. Counsel for the railroad brotherhoods it was announced after a conference today, will not appear.

The court will be asked to grant extra time for hearing of the Missouri, Oklahoma & Gulf States, chosen by the railroads and government to test the law's constitutionality. The Solicitor General will open the argument for the government and the closing argument will be made by Special Assistant Frank Hagerman. Attorney General Gregory will appear only as a spectator.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years doctors pronounced it to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Only those who were out very early yesterday morning were able to witness the total eclipse of the moon which occurred at that time. The eclipse was very defined although somewhat hidden by clouds. An eclipse forms one of the most interesting phenomena of the sky and this year there will be the greatest number possible, seven. The next eclipse will be on January 23. It will be of the sun but will not be visible in this section of the globe. Not since 1787 has the same occurred in one year and the number will not again be seen until 1982.

of the Americans in Constantinople he learned more of this new country and was not content until he sailed for New York more than ten years ago.

Nayphe continued his studies at Louisville, Ky., and at Harvard. In recent years he has been devoting all of his time to the lecture platform. Under the topic, "An Oriental's Impression of America and an Adopted American's Impression of the Orient," he discusses the geography and vegetation of the Orient, social customs, betrothal and marriage, hospitality, burial customs and religious practices of the Mohammedans.

He carries a large number of elaborate costumes, with Grecian and Roman jewels, to assist in the presentation of his subject.

"Famed Athens, the cradle of all that is beautiful, is Nayphe's birthplace," commented the Mount Carroll (Ill.) Democrat recently. "He is a nobleman in every sense of the term."
